CubelQ Announces Strategic Co-operation Agreement with Signotec GmbH

[EN] Athens, GR, June 18nd, 2015 - CubelQ Limited, an IT company provider of software solutions and systems for financial, banking and corporate institutions, announces a strategic cooperation agreement with Signotec GmbH a market and technology leader in the sector of electronic signature via pen-pads or tablet-PCs.

Signotec GmbH was founded in 2000 and is expert in the field of capturing handwritten electronic signatures also offering pen-pads and tablet-PCs for special solutions. All pads are characterized by essential unique selling features, for example extra wide body, with high class sensors, a second to none diversity of interfaces, terminal server capability and a lot more.

With Signotec's products the user is able to sign as usual while the signature is captured and digitized. Signotec's technology optimizes business processes, avoids media breaks, authenticates persons and creates legally compliant documents. Electronic documents being signed in this way can be controlled and checked everywhere and by everyone without any technical complexity. With Signotec's signature solutions, signing remains as simple and safe as it has always been. Signing, though, takes place directly within the electronic document. So cost-intensive media breaks due to the use of paper can be prevented, and electronic documents are protected and verified by the digital signature.

With an extensive know how in the field of biometric digital signature processing, Signotec has developed an extensive range of software solutions. signoSign/2, the market leading solution capturing and digitizing handwritten, personal signatures for electronic documents; biometric comparison of signatures (biometric API) and many different modules and components which are required for solution integration to different processing environments. Special emphasis should be placed on Signotec's signoPAD-API, which is shipped for free with Sigma and Omega SignoPads.

Independent writing experts evaluate and confirmed the quality of digitized physical signatures with Signotec's technology and their associated admissibility before the courts of law.

From electronic signature technology to digitizing physical signature technology, to signature comparison and document management, Signotec offers a complete, dynamic, innovative and intuitive solution available to the end-users, professional developers, small, medium as well as large enterprises.

Thanks to its partnership with CubelQ, Signotec's technology is now available through CubelQ network on Balkan Peninsula and other markets providing physical signature capture and digitizing solutions.
